Mr. Josh Hagan to celebrate his birthday

Mr. T. J. "Josh" Hagan will celebrate his birthday on Sunday, August 24, at Red Bug Haven. Friends and relatives will join him in celebrating it at a picnic lunch, iced tea, plates, cups and forks will be furnished.

Mr. Hagan is one of the county's leading personalities. He has been close to the Bulloch County scene for a long, long time and his love for his people and his land runs deep.

Monroe Earns Doctor's Degree At U. of Florida
Dr. Shelby Monroe, associate professor of education at Georgia Teachers College, was awarded a Doctor of Education degree at the summer convocation at the University of Florida on Saturday, August 9.

The program will be a demonstration of items from "The Magic Barrel." The DuPont Company has gathered together items of daily use and many unusual ones that are made from petrochemicals. The purpose of the demonstration is to show the daily dependence on oil and its many derivatives. The show is sponsored nationally by The Oil Industry Committee and is being shown to the local Lions Club by Mr. H. P. Jones Jr. and Mr. Lonnie Young of the Gulf Oil Company.

Dr. Monroe is the fifth member of the G.T.C. division of education to earn the doctor's degree. Others include Dr. J. D. Marvin Pittman, who will work with adult farmers in the community and will teach farm mechanics. Mrs. Virgil McElveen will be manager of the school lunchroom. For the last several years she has worked in the Brookline elementary. The public school music program and glee club will be directed by Mrs. Billie Craft, who worked in Bryan County last year in a similar capacity.

Other members of the faculty returning from the 1958-59 term include: Mrs. Billy Simmons and Mrs. Ed Wynn, eighth grade; M. L. Clontz, health and English; Miss Olive Mae Jernigan, French and library; Mrs. John Proctor, English and social science; Mrs. V. L. Mitchell, mathematics; Mr. Troy Mallard, industrial arts and mathematics; Mrs. Lucy Shaw, science; Mrs. Hamp Smith, English; Mrs. James McCall, social science; Mrs. Ida Hinton, homemaker; Mr. Jerry Kiehlhoffer, business education; Mr. John Spence, agriculture; Mr. George Roebuck, physical education and health; Mrs. Caroline Lee, piano; and W. E. Gear, principal.

French, which has not been offered for the last two years, will again be offered, and a new course in advanced mathematics for seniors will be offered for the first time.

Honorary pallbearers named were C. W. Dixon, H. E. Easter, C. A. Oliver, B. D. Dabner, J. T. Grice, C. L. Cowart, W. H. Minor, Howell Mann, Max Stolin, Hyman Lipitz, Leon Stolin, J. N. Wall, A. G. Pinkston, Hugh Strickland, J. D. Bradley Jr.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Nellie Everett Blitch; two daughters, Mrs. Carl J. Woelting and Mrs. G. H. Schrage of Savannah; one son, James R. Blitch of Waycross; four grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS OF STATESBORO AND BULLOCH COUNTY

STATESBORO, GEORGIA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 28, 1958

Bulloch County Development Corp. has firm verbal agreement for a new industry here

The Bulloch County Development Corporation of Statesboro and the Standard Garment Company have a firm verbal agreement on the establishment of an industry here to be called the Statesboro Manufacturing Company. The Standard Garment Company is a subsidiary of The Fruit of the Loom Company, nationally known makers of cloth goods.

The announcement was made this week by Thad J. Morris, president of the local Development Corporation.

Contracts and lease agreements are expected to be drawn up and signed soon after September 18, when the board of directors of the company meet.

The Bulloch County Development Corporation will build a 40,000 square foot building, expected to cost between $200,000 and $250,000 to be located on U. S. 301 on the Statesboro side of the Boy Scout camp near the old Pilots' baseball field.

The company has rented the old army building on East Street. Statesboro they will set up four cutting tables and will employ about twenty people, beginning September 15. They will begin a training program with about fifty in each group at a time. The plant expects to employ between 350 and 400 people, most of them women.

The company has leased a building at W. Vernon, Ga., and a building at Yadon, Ga., from which they will feed material into the completed new plant here.

On Monday, September 8, provisions will be set up to interview and accept applications for employment.

Mr. Morris stated that upon the completion of the contracts and lease agreements with the company the Development Corporation will move to complete its drive to raise funds to help finance the new building.

Max Lockwood to attend meet in Atlantic City
Mr. Max Lockwood of Statesboro, Georgia will take an active part in the program of the 40th National Recreation Congress being held in Atlantic City, N. J., September 22-26. He will participate as a panel member in the session entitled "Look Ahead for State Recreation."

An expert on the subject, Mr. Lockwood is chairman of the Georgia State Recreation Commission.

The Congress is the only national meeting which provides discussions of all phases of recreation for both professionals and laymen. The theme of the 1958 Congress is "Recreation Enters the Space Age." In a message sent recently to Congress officials, President Eisenhower declared, "The healthy use of leisure time becomes increasingly important to our living in this demanding age of speed. As our people look toward the future, I hope each

Extra tobacco sale here Friday, Aug. 29
Aulbert Brannen, president of the Georgia Tobacco Warehousemen's Association, said an extra sale day will be held in Statesboro to help tobacco farmers dispose of late crops.

Mr. Brannen said he will reopen the Brannen Warehouse on U. S. 301 at Statesboro Friday so that the small percentage of the late crop still in curing sheds can be marketed. A full set of buyers will be present. Georgia's official tobacco selling season ended last Friday, but a few farmers still have tobacco on hand. Agriculture Department officials reported that unusual weather conditions and delays in getting plants at the start of the season had caused the late crops.

Commissioner of Agriculture Phil Campbell praised Mr. Brannen's action in reopening the warehouse saying, "It is unfortunate that a few farmers were unable to finish out their tobacco in time to sell it during the regular season, with the assistance of the Georgia Tobacco Association, we should be able to deal with this problem caused by unusual weather conditions and late plantings."

The Story of Bulloch County

By BROOKS AND LEODEL COLEMAN

EDITOR'S NOTE—This week we publish another installment of "The Story of Bulloch County" which we began on August 29, 1957.

Chapter VII - Installment 12

One of the strangest coincidences of the Civil War was told by B. W. Darsey, a soldier of the Confederacy from Bulloch County, who was a member of Company D of the famous Fifth Georgia Cavalry. Darsey tells the story in a booklet entitled "A War Story" which he wrote about 1901, more than thirty-six years after the close of the war. This is how he relates the story:

"I, with some others of my regiment (5th Georgia Cavalry) was captured near Murfreesboro, Tenn., and among the captives was Matthew Miller of Company E of our regiment, and who is a well known citizen in Bulloch County. Our horses were captured too, and of course became the property of the U. S. Government. This was the 6th day of September, 1864. We were carried to Camp Chase, near the city of Columbus, Ohio, and there held as prisoners of war until we were released by parole on the 11th day of June, 1865.

"Mr. Miller reached his home about the 25th of the same month, and to his great delight found his horse at home in his lot, the very identical horse which had been captured by himself by the enemy near ten months before. Now the question will naturally arise with some as to how the horse came there. Well it happened in this way.

"P. C. Hagins, a step-son of Mr. Miller, who was quite young then, had served a short time in the war and honorably discharged at the surrender, while on his way home through the county of Burke, this state, saw the horse and recognized him as being the same horse his step-father had rode to the war. Cone made inquiry of the man as to how he came in possession of him and was told that the Yankee cavalry had left him there as a broken down horse, and that he was now the proper owner. Cone laid claim to him but was refused.

"He came home and with the shrewdness of a man obtained witnesses, and identified the horse and led him home to the great delight of the family. But while they rejoiced at getting the horse home again, they were grieved at not knowing the fate of the rider, their father and husband; neither did they know until Mr. Miller reached home the time above stated. Much kindness was lavished upon Jack (for that was his name) and soon became a serviceable horse again, and lived to do the family faithful work until he died at the age of 24 years. I doubt there being a survivor of the way, North or South, who can tell a similar tale and substantiate it by living witnesses."

CONSCRIPTION ACT

HENRY C. LEE

Under the cnscription Act of the Confederate States of America passed in April 1862, provision was made so that men eligible for service or already in the Confederate Army might secure a substitute to serve for him in the army if he could satisfy all the requirements of the Act.

There is recorded in Bulloch County an instance of a soldier who was in the army and needed to be relieved who secured a substitute to serve in his stead.

The document affecting the substitution reads:

"Headquarters, June 27, 1862.

"To all whom it may concern:

"I hereby certify that Henry C. Lee, a private in Company C of the 47th Regiment of Georgia Volunteers, commander by Col. Williams, has this day provided John Timmerin as his substitute under the Conscription Act of the Confederate States of America.

"And I further certify that said John Timmerin has been examined by Sergeant John Rambo and pronounced sound and fit for military service.

"The above Henry C. Lee is 19 years of age, dark complexion, grey eyes, black hair, and about 5 feet four inches high.

"And I further certify that Henry C. Lee is not indebted to the government and is hereby honorably discharged from the service of the Confederate States of America by reason of having furnished a substitute in conformity with the Act of Congress.

"A. S. Canuet, Lt. Commanding Co. C, 47th Regiment, Georgia Volunteers.

"Approved: G.W.W. Williams, Colonel Commanding 47th Regiment, Georgia Volunteers."

Georgia and Bulloch County in 1861 must have seemed a very desirable place in which to live for Henry Well denouced his homeland in Wittenburg, Germany to become a citizen of the Confederate States of America. Whatever his reason might have been it is recorded in the early records of Bulloch County that Henry Well did become a citizen of Bulloch County.

The document declaring his intention of becoming a citizen of Georgia and this country read as follows:

"States of Georgia, Bulloch County, Confederate States of America.

"Be it remembered that on the 17th day of September in the year of our Lord, 1861, in person appears before the undersigned Clerk of Court of said county being a court of record having common law jurisdiction, a clerk and a seal, Henry Well, who being sworn according to law, deposeeth and saith that his name is Henry Well, that it is his bona fide intention to become a citizen of the Confederate States of America, that he was born in Wittenburg, in 22 years of age, that his allegiance is due to the reigning King of Wittenburg, that he emigrated and landed in City of New York in the State of New York, where he remained about 14 days which place he left and landed in City of Savannah in State of Georgia which state he has resided ever since on or about last of December, 1856, and he intends to settle in State of Georgia. And further deponeeth saith he doth hereby renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince or potentate state or sovereignty, whatsoever and particularly to reigning King of Wittenburg of which kingdom he was lately a subject before me this September 17, 1861.

"Signed by Samuel Harviel, Clerk of Superior Court of Bulloch County."

The paths which enveloped these people in these times is revealed in a letter in the possession of Mr. W. Linton McElveen of Arcola. The letter is dated October 19, 1861, and was written for a Negro slave woman named "Flora" by her owner to her daughter,

"Mariah," a servant of Nno. Slater of Bryan County. It reads:

"My dear daughter Mariah.

"I want you to come and see me soon.

"I can't live long now; I am old and feeble and can't stay long—should be more than glad to see you once more before I leave, say to your dear master to let you come. I know he will let you come to see your old and feeble mother who is now looking daily for that change that all must undergo.

E.M.C. to award medallions for good wiring

A Medallion Home Program aimed at raising living standards through increased residential electrification is being launched in this area by Excelsior E.M.C.

Cleo E. Miles, manager, announced today that Excelsior E.M.C. has joined with hundreds of other electric power suppliers throughout the country in sponsoring the program.

"Key element in the campaign," he said, "is a three-inch bronze medallion which we will award to builders for permanent mounting on new homes which meet or exceed our exacting lighting, wiring, and appliance standards."

He pointed out that in order to qualify homes for these medallion awards, builders must incorporate the latest electrical features designed for healthy, comfortable living.

In the area served by Excelsior E.M.C., Mr. Miles said, these include ultra-modern interior and outdoor lighting and home wiring adequate to serve the electrical needs of a family today and in the future.

Also required for medallion certification, he said, is a full quota of time and work-saving electrical appliances. These include an electric range, refrigerator, quick-recovery water heater and kitchen ventilating fan, plus at least two additional electric appliances from this list: dishwasher, dryer, automatic washer, freezer or room cooler.

To distinguish all-electric homes—the ultimate in electrical living—the Excelsior E.M.C. will award special gold medallions to homes which meet its lighting, wiring and appliance standards and are equipped with electric resistance heating or electric heat pump.

Mr. Miles pointed out that Excelsior E.M.C. has exclusively empowered to certify homes for medallions in its service area as a part of the electrical industry's national Live Better Electrically Program.

"We feel," he said, "that this campaign will help to stimulate construction and sales of new homes which contain the electrical features most wanted by Georgia families for easier, happier living."

"This is the first home-building program ever to be jointly conducted by all segments of the electrical industry working together toward a common goal—better living for homemakers and homeowners. With the help of local builders, we hope to make the Live Better Electrically a symbol of long-lasting value in this area.

"In the future when people here build, buy or rent a home, they will look for the medallion permanently mounted on cornerstone, pathway, door sill or porch—as their best assurance of good value and solid electrical livability."

MISS BUTLER AND MR. MCCORMICK ARE WED IN PEMBERKE

The Pembroke Christian Church was the scene Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the wedding of Miss Terie Belle Butler and Thomas Arthur McCormick of Statesboro.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Butler of Pembroke. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McCormick of Statesboro.

Performing the double ring ceremony was the Rev. V. P. Bowers, retired pastor of the church. Baskets of pink asters and gladioli formed floral arrangements against a background of greenery and palms, flanked by seven-branched candelabra.

Music was presented by Mrs. Billy Stewart, pianist, and Willie Butler, soloist, both of Pembroke.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of imported lace and tulle. The bodice of the dress was designed with long sleeves and a scalloped decollete neckline with an inset net yoke and high collar. The full, floor-length skirt was fashioned of tulle over a layer of satin with lace points from waist to hip.

Her hair was a French lace hat encrusted in seed pearls attached to a fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and showered with white satin streamers and lilies of the valley.

Miss LaVern Lewis of Pembroke was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. She wore a waltz-length dress of pink embroidered nylon organza over a darker shade of taffeta. The wide cummerbund was tied at the waist in a large bow. On her head she wore a band of taffeta edged in sequins. Her bouquet was of pink asters and grapes entwined with pink tulle.

Lester Smith of Statesboro was best man. Usher-groomsmen were Carlisle McCormick, Claxton, and Dan Hodges, Miss Dorothy Knight.

For her daughter's wedding, Mr. Butler chose a blue acetate and nylon sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. McCormick also wore a corsage of white carnations and matching accessories with her pink lace dress over taffeta.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Butler entertained with a reception in the church social hall.

The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with miniature bride and groom and centered a table which was covered with white organza over orchid taffeta. Silver candelabra on each side of the cake held lighted pink tapers. Baskets of pink flowers and greenery were used throughout the room.

Introducing the guests to the receiving line was Mrs. E. B. Owens. Serving were Miss Nan Waters, Miss Grace Williamson, Miss Shirley McCormick and Miss Norman Jean McCormick. Miss Rose Buckner kept the bride's book.

For her wedding trip to points of interest in the mountains, Mrs. McCormick chose a lovely linen covered table in the foyer. A silver bowl filled with purple and yellow iris centered the table.

The tea table was covered with an imported linen cloth with a crystal punch bowl at one end from which punch was served by Mrs. C. E. Bohler and Mrs. Ed Wynn of Brooklet. Centered on the table was a lovely arrangement of lavender, yellow and pink asters filled in with greenery in a silver bowl, flanked by silver candelabra with pink tapers.

Bridal cakes, embossed with pink, green and white wedding bells, were on silver trays. Nuts and pastel minis were served in silver compotes.

A fruit arrangement was on the buffet.

Mrs. J. L. Minick and Mrs. Virgil McElveen of Brooklet assisted in serving. Miss Barbara Griffith mingled with the guests.

Miss Lanier was lovely in a rose organza over tulle with billowy skirt, worn with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

The hostesses presented the honoree a dinner plate in her china and a salad fork in her silver pattern.

Two hundred guests were invited to call between the hours of four and six.

More than 24 million of Georgia's total acreage of 37,680,640 is in forests, say Extension Service foresters.

Georgia has about 4,100 naval stores producers who work about 25 million acres annually, according to the Extension foresters.

THE FLOYD HOME SCENE OF AFTER-REHEARSAL PARTY

Following the rehearsal of the Gaudin-Chenault wedding, the bride and groom, members of the wedding party and out-of-town guests, were honored at a dinner party by Mrs. Valdo Floyd, Mrs. Leodele Coleman and Mrs. Virginia Evans at the lovely Floyd home on North Main Street.

Since the weather has been rather fickle, the hostesses took no chances. The rooms were charmingly decorated and made ready for serving should the rains come. The living room struck a key note of warm welcome with red roses on the mantle. The porch afforded glimpses of a fruit arrangement with greenery; rubrum lilies in the dining room were exotic and lovely.

Suddenly you saw the "secret garden" in the light of hurricane lamps on tall stands. The pierced white brick walls insured privacy. A long table was set on the terrace overlooking, so named, because of its shape. An exquisite modern linen cloth covered the table. Raising dramatically from the center of the table was a Sheffield silver candelabrum with twisted branches, holding three white candles. In the center an epergnette was overflowing with coral vine, ivy and rubrum lilies, the focal point of the arrangement.

At one end of the table ice cream, in silver wedding slipper molds, were served from the silver tray. Another large silver tray held individual homemade cakes, embossed in pale green with white valley lilies.

White garden furniture made for conversation groups for the guests.

Later the guests were served delectable and mint. Assisting the hostesses in serving were Mrs. Lane Johnson of Columbus, Miss Lynn Collins and Miss Nancy Ellis.

Fifty guests were present.

MISS GENEVIEVE GUARDIA IS BRIDE OF MR. HENRY CHENAULT JR.

The marriage of Miss Genevieve Guardia to Mr. Henry Chenaunt Jr. was solemnized Tuesday afternoon, August 19, at the First Presbyterian Church in Statesboro.

The Rev. Henry S. Chenaunt officiated at the wedding in a setting of candlelight and arrangements of woodwardia ferns and baskets filled with white gladioli, chrysanthemums and white asters. The Rev. Miles C. Wood, pastor of the church, assisted in the impressive double ring service.

A program of wedding music was presented by Jack W. Brouck which included "Traumerel," "O Perfect Love," "I Love Thee" and "Meditation," wedding marches by Wagner and Mendelssohn.

Mrs. Chenaunt is the daughter of Mrs. John Edward Guardia and the late Dr. Guardia of Natchitoches, La.

The groom is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Chenaunt of Richmond, Va.

THE BRIDE

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her brother, Dr. Charles Edward Guardia of Pittsburg, Kansas, wore a full-length gown of rose point Chantilly lace over tulle and satin, fashioned with a long fitted bodice with the Sabrina neckline sprinkled with iridescent sequins, long fitted sleeves of lace tapered to calla points over the hands. The bouffant skirt extended to a chapel train. The front skirt panel of tulle was encrusted with sequins. Her finger tip veil of tulle with a black at the end of the service, was attached to a dainty coronet

To the People of Bulloch County:

I am a candidate for renomination to the Georgia Legislature in the Democratic Primary to be held September 10, 1950. The confidence shown by you in allowing me to serve another term without opposition is deeply appreciated.

It has been a privilege and an honor to serve Bulloch County in the General Assembly during the past four years. The high type people composing the citizenry of Bulloch County has made it a pleasure as well.

I pledge to continue support of all legislation designed to improve state services, provide better schools and a more adequate highway system. I believe in requiring all phases of the state government to be operated on a sound businesslike basis with control of the state finances being returned to the people through their duly elected legislators.

I am proud to have played a part in the adoption of legislation which has served to combat the encroachment on the rights of our citizens, both from within and from without our state. I pledge to continue my support of legislation which will preserve the tranquil relations enjoyed by our people in all phases of economic, social and educational endeavors.

I respectfully seek your advice and counsel and want you to know that if at any time I can be of assistance, please feel free to call on me.

Sincerely,

Francis W. Allen

GUARDIA-CHENAULT REHEARSAL DINNER

Beautiful, brilliant, and a bride, pretty properly describe the rehearsal of the Guardia-Chenaunt nuptials, Monday evening, August 18, in the banquet room of Mrs. Bryan's Kitchen.

Hostesses were Mrs. Don Thompson, Mrs. Percy Averitt, Mrs. Fielding Russell, Mrs. W. A. Bowen, Mrs. Stothard Deal, Mrs. Henry Ellis, Mrs. Bill Keith and Miss Marie Wood.

Seated at the table on the dais in the banquet room were Miss Guardia, the bride-to-be; Mr. Henry Chenaunt, the groom-to-be; Mrs. J. E. Guardia, brother of the bride, and the groom's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Chenaunt Sr.

The table was centered with an arrangement of rubrum lilies, interwoven with delicate tulle and English ivy, flanked by coral vine, blending pink and green in graceful beauty to the ends of the table. At each corner of the tables were lovely hoops of crisp white net with silvered clippers suspended from the bells.

Bride and groom place cards marked the places.

The color motif was repeated in the dinner menu from pink melon balls to the pink vanilla cream and cherry parfait for dessert. The main course offered a Guardia broiled chicken with rice and giblet gravy, string beans, asparagus casserole, dried rolls, and blueberry muffins and coffee.

Places were set for forty. The bride-elect appeared at this party in a cocktail gown of Pacific blue silk organza over rose taffeta. The left shoulder and full skirt were ornamented with appliqued flowers in rose tones. Matching her rose satin belt were Genevieve's rose satin pumps and small beaded bag.

GENEVIEVE GUARDIA'S BRIDESMAIDS LUNCHEON

Mrs. R. J. Brown and Mrs. W. Z. Brown were hostesses at a luncheon for Miss Genevieve Guardia honoring her bridesmaids and out-of-town guests on Monday, August 18, in the private dining room at Mrs. Bryan's Kitchen.

The tables were overlaid with linen cloths. The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of pink and white snapdragons in a silver bowl. Down two longer side tables were small silver cups with snapdragons. Miniature blue parties marked each guest's place. The bride-elect found that hers was intended for wearing as "something blue" in her wedding.

The guests enjoyed a refreshing salad plate with cold cuts of ham and turkey and a variety of cheeses, after a cocktail of fruit juice with floating sherbet. A delightful contrast was of hot asparagus casserole served with blueberry muffins and rolls. Strawberry custard chiffon pie and iced tea completed the menu. After lunch dainty mints were passed to each guest.

Genevieve's gifts to her bridesmaids were lovely white gloves and pearl earrings. The flower girls were presented dainty pearl drops on a gold chain. Mrs. Allen Daughtry, close friend of the Guardia family, who directed the wedding, was remembered with a gift. The hostesses presented Genevieve with a cup and saucer in her casual china pattern.

The bride-elect was lovely in her blue and white cotton sheath with a blue cummerbund matching the blue embroidery in the dress. The shawl collar which formed an off-the-shoulder neck line was accented with rhinestones and a pink carnation corsage which was used to mark the bride's place at the table.

In addition to the honoree were Mrs. Henry Chenaunt, Miss Donnell Thompson, Miss Mary Chenaunt, Mrs. Guy F. Taylor, Miss Joyce Swann, Mrs. T. E. Bass, Mrs. Bill Keith, Miss Jennie Keith, Mrs. Charles E. Guardia, Mrs. Donald Tamplin, Mrs. Lewis J. Bass, Mrs. L. A. Smith, Mrs. Jessilyn Fairburn, Miss Lillian Smith, Mrs. Allen Daughtry, Mrs. Allen Dryden, Mrs. John Guardia, Mrs. Denise Thomas, Miss Judy Brown, Mrs. R. J. Brown, and Mrs. W. Z. Brown.

PRESBYTERIAN CEREMONY UNITES MISS BOLIN AND MR. RUSSELL

The First Presbyterian Church in Belmont, N. C., was the scene Sunday, August 16, at 5 p. m. of the marriage of Miss Barbara Anne Bolin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Manning Bolin of Belmont, N. C., to William Don Russell of Washington, D. C., son of Dr. and Mrs. Fielding Dillard Russell of Statesboro, Ga.

The Rev. Fielding Russell Jr., brother of the groom, officiated at the ceremony, assisted by Dr. Eugene D. Witherspoon.

The church was decorated with tall palms interspersed with candelabra holding lighted tapers. On the altar was an arrangement of white gladioli and chrysanthemums cascaded with stephanotis and white satin streamers.

Miss Kathryn Lumfelt, organist, and Samuel G. Greene Jr., soloist, presented the wedding music. Mr. Greene sang "The Lord's Prayer" in marriage by her father, wore a Maurer original of silk peau de soie and Chantilly lace. The bride's bodice was fashioned with a scalloped sabbina neckline delicately traced with seed pearls, and fastened down the back with miniature lace covered buttons. Long lace sleeves tapered to calla points over the hands. The bouffant skirt of peau de soie dress was accented at the front with a scalloped lace panel. A similar panel cascaded down the back to form a graceful chapel train. Her four-tiered finger tip veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a matching lace pill box.

The bride carried The Love Bride carried a cascade bouquet of hybrid white rubrum lilies centered with a pink rubrum lily.

BRIDE'S ATTENDANTS

Miss Sylvia Bolin was her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Gales, Lounsbury, N. C., Ann Burke Chappell, Hartford, N. C., Gail Yount, Belmont, N. C., and Mrs. Salerno Ford Johnson, aunt of the bride.

The attendants wore cocktail dresses of blush pink nylon or organza over taffeta. The brides were styled with scoop necklines finished with wide hertha collars appliqued with Venice lace motifs. Full gathered skirts were posed over net and worn over hoops and crinolines.

Junior attendants, Brenda Bolin, sister of the bride, and Virginia Russell, sister of the groom, were dressed like the other attendants. All carried crescent bouquets of rubrum lilies.

Dr. Fielding Russell served as his son's best man. Ushers were Richard Russell IV, brother of the groom, and Gene Fletcher of Statesboro. Michael Bolin, brother of the bride, was a junior usher.

The bride's mother, Mrs. W. Manning Bolin was attired in Glen Joan original of Adele blue Chantilly lace combined with silg chiffon. Her hat was of matching blue sequins on lace. Her corsage was of gemellias.

The groom's mother chose for her son's wedding a pink lace dress.

Salvation Army

to consider unit here

Mr. John D. Parker, service extension representative of the Salvation Army, Georgia Div., has been in Statesboro for the past few days in conference with many of the local, civic, business, and church leaders with regard to setting up a local service unit of the Salvation Army.

Since there has been considerable interest shown in this phase of activity a meeting has been arranged to be held at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen Friday morning, September 5, at 7 a. m., at which time all who are interested in local emergency welfare and transient welfare problems are urged to be present for the presentation of the program of activity as outlined for the local service unit of the Salvation Army. Each visitor will defray his own breakfast expense.

TRACE ELEMENTS

Trace elements essential to plant growth are: copper, manganese, baron, iron, zinc and molybdenum. Extension agronomists point out that these elements are necessary for plant growth, but are required in much smaller amounts than the other elements.

dress with a pink satin bodice. Her hat and shoes matched her corsage of American Beauty roses.

Immediately following the wedding a reception followed in the church parlors with Misses Elizabeth and Naomi Johnson of Washington, D. C., and Misses Laura and Silvia Johnson of Belmont, N. C. as hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. William Russell left on a wedding trip to the coast. They will reside at 2119 H. Street, Washington 7, D. C.

Mr. Russell graduated from The George Washington University in June, and is presently employed in the United States Senate.

Mrs. Russell has attended the University of North Carolina for three years. Mr. Russell plans to pursue post-graduate work in zoology and criminology. University, and his bride will enter George Washington University this fall as a senior.

COOLING CHICKS

Chickens also suffer from excess heat and may even die of heat prostration if their comfort isn't provided for. Good ventilation of broiler houses is a must in hot weather, but it isn't enough, especially when the outside temperature approaches 100 degrees in the shade.

WET ROOFS

Keeping a roof wet also will help keep the house cooler inside. While it may not be practical for the larger houses, laying a plastic, spring-type garden hose the length of the house at the ridge and running water through it will help.

IN EMERGENCY

If birds start dying from heat prostration, emergency measures must be taken at once. Birds must be sprinkled with a fine mist from a garden hose, but in doing this don't use too much water and get the litter wet.

HEAT AND HUMIDITY

Almost everyone in Georgia sooner or later suffers from effects of hot weather in August and September. During heat waves even the effort to keep cool seems to make us even hotter. The next time you are sweltering remember that farm animals are even more at the mercy of the elements than you.

Rains come to Stilson community; concern shown for peanuts, cotton

Everyone was very thankful for the nice rain we had here last Sunday evening. The roads were so very dusty, and the weather so dry and hot. The rain settled the dust and cooled the air. It looks very much like rain again today (Monday). Let's hope the weather will clear up so that the peanut farmers and cotton farmers will be able to save their crops.

CONSTRUCTION COSTS

Here's why your Fire Insurance costs have been increased

Fire is expensive! Building is expensive! Repairs and replacements of burned property costs $1.50 today for every $1 that building materials and labor cost in 1948.

Higher costs of repairs and replacements have increased the amounts paid to insurance property-owners by insurance companies.

Fire losses in Georgia were $70,000,000 in 1952-56, up 26,000,000 over the 1947-51 period.

The higher burning rate and the higher construction costs forced an increase in fire insurance rates on February 1. Even with this increase, Georgia's average fire insurance costs are 16% less than in 1948.
